OPA Action to Curb High Rent in Boom Areas

Cities, Towns to Be Put on 60-Day Notice to Lower Rents

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson within a few days will take firm action to curb inflationary rentals in war boom cities and towns housing upwards of 7 million persons, it was learned Friday.

The office of price administration will designate officially the first group of defense rental areas with recommendations of the ceiling to be applied with the boundaries of each area defined by local maps.

The designations will put communities on a 60-day notice to reduce rents to the recommended levels. If not accomplished by state or local action OPA may move in with the power conferred in the price control bill to enforce lower rentals.

Areas were not indicated but it was believed it included more than a dozen. Rent surveys were conducted in approximately 720 communities.

Ship Survivors Reach Safety

Third Vessel Afire Sighted Off New Jersey Coast

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana—(AP)—Survivors from two ships torpedoed and sunk in the western Atlantic were brought to this port within the last 24 hours.

Identities of the two ships were not disclosed immediately. The first group of survivors said a single torpedo broke their vessel in two and two of the crew were killed.

Ship Afire Sighted
BELMAR, N. J. —(AP)—A ship afire was sighted about 5 miles offshore early Friday and coast guard vessels from both New York and New Jersey stations put out to the rescue. Thousands of residents on the coast saw the blazing ships which appeared to be a tanker.

Although some ten coast guard vessels were dispatched to the scene the Third Naval District said when they released the story that it had received no information on name, or type of the craft or the extent of damage.

Says French Reject Demands of Leahy
LONDON—(AP)—The German controlled Paris radio said Friday "it had been confirmed" that Admiral William D. Leahy, U. S. ambassador to Vichy, has demanded that all movements of the French fleet should receive prior authority from the U. S. The Vichy government, the radio said, has rejected "this intolerable demand."

Allied Bombers Rain New Blows on Jap Armada

Port Blair, Stepping Stone to India, Ceylon, Blasted by Japs

By the Associated Press
Allied warplanes rained new blows upon Japanese invasion armada off Bangkok Island Friday amid indications that the badly mauled enemy was awaiting reinforcements before rickering a climatic assault against Java, heart of the Indies.

Bangka lies off the east coast of lower Sumatra, 270 miles north of Batavia.

Far to the northwest the Japanese sent an aerial feeler attack against Port Blair in the Andaman Island in the Indian ocean, 350 miles southwest of Rangoon, Burma.

Three Japanese planes bombed and machine-gunned the port Tuesday and Thursday, exceeding Japan's farthest thrust to the west since the war began. Two civilians were killed and five were wounded.

The strategic island is important as a base for a possible invasion of Ceylon or India.

Hard hit by shipping and plane losses the Japanese made no claim of tightening the siege of Java, heart of the Indies, where it was disclosed that "many thousands" of American, British and Australian troops grined and with some eagerness were awaiting the invaders.

"Fight like wildcats and fight like hell" was the official slogan.

A bulletin from NEI headquarters said there had been a noticeable slackening in the Japanese air assault during the past few days and it was apparent that the arrival of canon-blasting American flying fortresses and other planes at least tempered the Japanese superiority in the skies.

Besides pounding the Japanese ships off Bangka island bombers also delivered violent attacks on military targets near Japanese-held Palembang in lower Sumatra, starting big fires.

The Australian airforce struck a new at Japanese occupied Rabaul, New Britain Island setting fires to wharves, shipping, installations and airdromes.

A Dutch communiqué said 9 Japanese bombers raided the Allied naval base at Soerabaya in western Java but declared "our fighters soon drove the enemy away and all bombs fell in the sea."

By the Associated Press
Japanese warplanes were reported Friday to have attacked Indian territory for the first time, twice bombing and machine-gunning the Andaman Island in the Bay of Bengal, 350 miles southwest of Rangoon, on a vital United Nations supply route to China, Russia and the Far Pacific.

Reds Open New Drives at Both Ends of Front

Russian Cavalrymen Reported Only 72 Miles From Latvian Frontier

By the Associated Press
Russia's armies opened fierce new attacks at both ends of the 1200 mile front Friday lashing out from long-besieged Leningrad in the north and on the Crimean Peninsula in the south while Stockholm dispatches said Soviet cavalrymen advanced to within 72 miles of the Latvian border.

Heavy battles were reported raging around Novgorod, key German base on Lake Ilman, 100 miles south-east of Leningrad.

A bulletin from Red army headquarters said the Russians, apparently striking to divert Nazi reserves from going to the relief of 90,000 Germans reported trapped south of Lake Ilman in the Staraya-Russa sector, destroyed 11 block houses and 30 gun emplacements and dugouts and killed 2,500 Germans in a 3-day battle.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that the Russians were attacking fiercely on the Sevastopol and Kerch fronts in the Crimea but asserted that German and Rumanian troops repulsed them with heavy losses.

Advices from Stockholm said the Red cavalry had reached the vicinity of Sustjevo, railway village in a drive to the Latvian border, a thrust imperiling the flank of the German armies before Leningrad.

Fulton Soldier Is Officer Candidate

Private First Class (Specialist Fourth Class) Jesse Lawton Walters, son of Mrs. J. C. Walters, Fulton, was one of the two soldiers selected by a board of Officers at Fort Riley, Kansas, to attend the Officer's Candidate School of the Armored Force at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He reported at Fort Knox, February 22, for the course of training and will graduate May 24, and be commissioned second lieutenant, if required grades are achieved.

Private Walters was inducted into the service June 27, 1941, and since that time has been stationed at Fort Riley, Kans. For the past six months his duties have been a clerk at the office of the Provost Marshal, Cavalry Replacement Training Center, Fort Riley, Kans.

Allies Mapping Out Offensive

Representatives Meet With Australian Group

MELBOURNE, Australia—(AP)—The greatest war planning conference ever held in Australia convened Friday with the Commonwealth council meeting in a secret session with high advisors from the Allied nations to shape a new offensive strategy based on the possibility of an imminent Japanese attack on this continent.

Laid before the meeting was a plan on which Australia and Allied strategists have been working for days—a plan for ultimate heavy offensive stroke as well as the guarding of the Australian shores.

Even as the council met forces of the invader poised on outlying Australian territory—the islands of New Guinea and New Britain.

Australian airmen continued their blows at the massing Japanese, raiding captured New Britain port at Rabaul Thursday night, dive bombing ships, buildings and airdromes.

The Melbourne Herald said the council talks would continue over the week-end but predicted a quick decision.

It reported that the government declined to accept the view of some observers that Japanese were more likely to concentrate on their thrust into Burma than to strike at Australia as soon as the Netherlands East Indies could be subdued.

The Herald added that "unfortunately information here shows that continued resistance on Java cannot long be expected."

Showdown Near on Labor Law

Vote on 40-Hour-Week Repealer Is Delayed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—After a bitter debate, the house Thursday postponed until Friday a showdown vote on a proposal to suspend for duration of the war federal laws calling for a 40-hour week and extra pay for overtime.

The author of the plan, Representative Smith (Dem., Va.), raked "arbitrary labor leaders" who, he said were calling strikes "for silly reasons." Representative McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader, accused Smith of fostering "anti-labor" legislation which would undo the gains of many years.

The Smith proposal was offered as an amendment to a measure expanding the government's war powers. The decision to quit for the day, after an earlier announcement of intention to finish the broad bill Thursday, was reached when it became obvious debate on the labor clause would extend far into the night. A score or more speakers remained to be heard at adjournment.

Frank Hill to Run for Sheriff

Present County Clerk Announces Candidacy Friday

Frank J. Hill, present clerk of Hempstead county, Friday pulled his name from the list of prospective candidates in the Hempstead election, by announcing as a candidate for sheriff and collector.

Mr. Hill issued the following statement to the citizens and voters of Hempstead county:

"It is with great pleasure that I announce to you my candidacy for Sheriff and Collector of Hempstead county. Most of you who read this know me personally and have had some business or social relationship with me in the past few years while I served in the County AAA Office (Cotton office) for four years, at which time, you, the people, chose to give me a better job—that of County and Probate Clerk, the office which I now hold and of which I am very proud. All of the time I have spent serving you has been a pleasure. I have done my work happily and to the best of my ability.

"Now, I am asking you for a promotion. In asking for this promotion, I am not unmindful of the duties and responsibilities of the office of Sheriff and Collector of this our great county. It is he, as collector, who you trust and charge with the responsibility of collecting the taxes for the maintenance of our schools and our county government; also, giving proper credits therefore. It is he, as sheriff, who you trust and charge with the grave responsibility of keeping the peace and enforcing the laws of our land, which, in times of war, extend further than the boundaries of our county and even the boundaries of our state. It extends to our National boundaries; and, it is he, who will be called upon more than ever before, in many, many ways to protect our national safety.

"Friends, I have no hesitancy in soliciting your support for this office as I feel that I am qualified to meet the requirements even in this crisis, and I solemnly promise that if you honor me by promoting me to this good office, that I will personally be your sheriff and you may call me, not my deputy, when in need of my services. I will always be on the job ready to serve you as the law directs.

"I take this occasion to thank you for the many favors shown me, and to again solicit your vote and support for the office of Sheriff and Collector of Hempstead county, Arkansas."

Arkansas Fuel Oil Co. Extends Field to West

Creek No. 1 Completed Friday; Official Gauge Unavailable Yet

By Special Correspondent
STAMPS—The third producer for the new Midway oil field, extending the proven area west from the discovery well, was brought in Friday when Arkansas Fuel Oil company completed its Creek No. 1 test in 10-15-24, LaFayette county.

The well, west over the section line from Barnsdall Oil company's discovery test, is flowing into tanks after perforation at between 6,420 and 6,450 feet with 124 shot.

The official gauge was not available Friday afternoon. Reports from the field said there was no water in the oil.

The Arkansas Fuel Oil company's producer checked 90 feet low by comparison with Barnsdall's discovery well. The top of the saturation in the Creek producer was 6,421 feet.

State Resents Ickes Gas Order

Gas Field Hearing Called at El Dorado March 10

EL DORADO—With Arkansas facing the loss or crippling of nearly a dozen war plants because of Petroleum Administrator Ickes' ruling restricting the drilling of gas wells to one every 640 acres, the state Oil and Gas Commission Thursday night ordered that all south Arkansas gas fields be shut down at 7 a. m. Friday so that engineers of the agency may obtain bottom hole pressure and other data to be used at a state-wide hearing of the group here March 10.

Chairman O. C. Bailey said that oil operators and state officials will discuss all available information on the McKame, Dorchest and Macedonia fields at that time.

Mr. Bailey said a transcript of all information will be sent to Co-ordinator Ickes to "enlighten" the department as to the situation facing Arkansas. He said the sour gas from the three fields had been pledged to defense industries in the state, and that the commission desires to show Mr. Ickes that the drilling of additional wells is necessary to obtain an adequate supply of gas.

County Farmers Doing Part in Victory Drive

Agent Reports Progress Made by Various Hemp-stead Farmers

C. L. Reaves, Agricultural Planning Committee member at Friendship, reports that the Bot treatment given his horses and mules at a neighborhood livestock clinic removed dozens of bots. Mr. Reaves said the treatment was valued at many times the cost and that he would be very glad to discuss the results with other stockmen. J. L. Walters of the Friendship neighborhood reports great improvement of an aged brood mare that had teeth repaired at the clinic.

G. L. Dunaway of Belton neighborhood reports improved White Spanish peanuts made a yield of 60 bushels and more than a ton of hay per acre on his sandy land farm. Mr. Dunaway believes no crop will rival pecan production on his type land for feed or market with $82 per ton guaranteed on the nuts.

Gip Martin on the Washington-Ozan road who plans to have 500 white Leghorn hens in this flock for the production of quality fertile eggs is very much interested in an active poultry association as proposed by F. B. Miller, Route 1, Hope, chairman of the Hempstead County Poultry Committee. Mr. Martin left 96 sale tickets for 123 cases of eggs that he had delivered to a poultry association for study of interested poultry producers.

R. R. Cornelius Estate of Fulton operated by Paul Cornelius has entered eight Hereford bulls in the first Southwest Arkansas Hereford Breeder's Field Day and Bull Sale in Texarkana on March 5. Eighteen head of registered Hereford bulls and cows have also been entered in the sale of Arkansas Orchards, Inc. of Nashville and W. E. Williams of Gayland. A type discussion in grading will be conducted in the morning by M. W. Muldrow, Extension husbandman of the Extension Service which should prove valuable to all beef cattlemen. This is the first sale to be conducted by Southwest Arkansas Hereford Breeders.

The best information available shows that the scarcity of seed, low yields and the difficulty of obtaining good grades makes cotton production with staple from 1 5/32 to 1 3/16 inches for which special premiums have been announced the last few days more or less risky undertaking from a financial standpoint for Hempstead county farmers. It would probably prove unprofitable as well as unprofitable for Hempstead farmers to attempt to produce these varieties. The net cash outlook for middling or better grades of standard varieties such as Rowden, Stoneville and Deltapine is very good and will probably be very much needed by the time the 1942 crops are in the bale.

Civil Defense in Air Patrol

OCD Move Sailing
Along Toward Effective Group

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — With all the controversy and criticism over dancers, movie actors, unnecessary frills and what-not in the Office of Civilian Defense, very little has been written about the Civil Air Patrol, but it's at least one division of OCD that is sailing along toward effective organization.

More than 24,000 pilots, from students who hunt the wheel of a flying jockey on up to graybeards who got their start in the old crates of pre-World War I days and now can walk a four-motored transport through a hurricane, have enlisted in CAP. Nearly 17,500 have been certified by Washington and now are active in this service which includes everything from disaster relief to patrol and messenger duties for the armed forces.

The Texas wing of CAP has a flying ambulance. In Seattle, one enlistee is a parachute surgeon who can land with a folding operating table and all the necessary surgical instruments for emergency operations. He has two trained assistants who can hit the ground just as quickly as he does.

One recent step taken by the national organization is the installation of punch-card index system and a "mechanical brain." Previously, demands on the CAP were sufficiently localized that wing and group commanders could fill requests from personal knowledge of the abilities of pilots under their direction. Now, the organization and the services it performs have outgrown that system.

Suppose there was a hurry-up call for a man who could pilot a two-motor plane, fly blind over coastal areas, speak Dutch and manipulate an aerial camera. CAP officials here would feed the personnel cards into "mechanical brain" which sorts them at the rate of 400 a minute. In no time at all, they would have a handful of cards for the pilots with those accomplishments, select the one nearest the point of request and have him on the way to his assignment within an hour.

No organization, however, is perfect. CAP is at the moment having its own little storm of internal strife. The momentous question is whether the CAP women's uniform shall be slacks or a culotte.

A leader of the slack action says: "Slacks are more practical and less incumbering to girls climbing in and out of planes and wearing parachutes. Slacks and jodhpurs have always been the costumes of women flyers."

One of the culotte backers says: "Most girls look horrible in slacks, unless they are Powers models. Why not at least include culottes as optional."

Acting supply officer Harry R. Playford is perplexed. He'll be happy to pass the buck to any one who wants it.

differentials, having been won in the coal industry and started in the aluminum industry, will be pushed wherever the unions think they're strong enough to put it over. And on the same basis, there will be increasing demands for uniform wage scales within whole industries on a broader basis, to eliminate competition for labor between plants.

On the legislative front, the labor lobbyists think they have side-tracked the Smith anti-strike bill, though they realize it can be held over the head like an administration club, to be pulled out if labor gets out of hand. Biggest pro-labor measure the lobby works for is to increase unemployment compensation for workers displaced temporarily through conversion of plants to war production.

THE GORDONS ARE STERN

CHAPTER XV

ANNA'S diagnosis of Parris' state of mind was correct. Her observation was a neat compound of native peasant shrewdness and affectionate intuition. Parris was apprehensive and miserable for precisely the reasons she had named.

Today, for the first time since—since that dreadful day, he walked boldly down through the ever-green groves toward the pond.

"Renée, my darling. I love you, I didn't know then how much. I know now."

At the sound of the words which startled him back into the present, all sense of her presence was gone.

Time had begun to pass. It wouldn't ever stop now. It would go every day, faster and faster. A stirring, unhappy, frightening thought.

ABERDEEN COLLEGE ended its college year with the usual dull and repetitious ceremonies held during what always seemed the hottest week of the year. Parris avoided most of the events.

A week later Madame von Eln left for St. Louis for hospital observation, and Parris yielded to Drake's insistence on a camping trip. His grandmother returned to Kings Row before him, looking less well than when she left.

He went to Anna. "You've got to tell me! What did the doctors say?"

"Nothing new. I must tell you, Madame is not well. Just go on as if everything were as usual, Parris. Don't let her think you are worried about her."

It was in town that afternoon that Parris learned from Colonel Skeffington of Mrs. Tower's death. "Very strange," the Colonel said. "Nobody knew she was ill at all, not at all. If you notice anything curious over there, son—"

PARRIS found Dr. Tower reading. He appeared as calm and unperturbed as always.

"I just heard a few minutes ago about Mrs. Tower. I'm very sorry."

Dr. Tower looked as if he were not really listening. He inclined his head again.

Parris stammered a little, and continued: "I was away, you know. My grandmother was away, too, in St. Louis, or you would have heard from us."

An awkward silence fell between the two. Parris fumbled with some papers.

Sunday School Lesson

Parables by the Sea Reveal Deepest Significance of God's Work With Men.

Text: Mark 4:26-32; Matthew 13:44-50

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

One of the remarkable things of literature, illustrated in the history of practically all peoples, is the persistence of truth when it is expressed in the form of stories or parables. Even where such stories are not written, or do not become written until a later time, they persist from age to age.

The well-known Fables of Aesop offer an example of moral teaching in story form from secular literature, and these have a point and freshness for each new generation of young folk.

But the great, incomparable example is the parable of Jesus, devoted not merely to moral precepts or instructions but to making plain and emphasizing the deepest spiritual truth. Nor are the parables of Jesus mere analogies, or statements of resemblance. Analogies are apt to fail at some point and to become actually misleading, but the stories of Jesus were all selected and told with a precision that made their meaning accurate. Take, for instance, a parable like that of the Prodigal Son. Here we have not merely a story of an earthly father who was like our Heavenly Father, but a story that so accurately tells the nature and significance of God's grace at every point that no question is left and no sense of discrepancy.

As is often true of analogies or allegories, here in our lesson in the "Parables by the Sea" we have five parables illustrating the nature of the kingdom of heaven or different phases of that kingdom. Jesus likens it, first of all, to seed which a man casts upon the earth. But the casting of the seed does not assure a crop; it is the power of God in nature working with man that brings growth and makes possible the ultimate harvest.

Could there be a finer illustration than this, of farmer sowing his seed, sleeping and rising night and day, while the process of growth goes on through the forces of nature working with him and producing a harvest? It is an exact illustration of how God works with men, and of how men may co-operate with God.

The parable of the mustard seed

'Ride 'Em Cowboy' Opens at Saenger Theater Here Sunday

illustrates what we so often see—the growth of great and mighty things from small beginnings. The mustard seed was so small that "a grain of mustard seed" was a byword at the time for something very minute. The reference to this seed, growing into something "greater than all the herbs" or a tree, has puzzled scholars. There is a tree called the mustard known to the Arabs, but it does not grow in Palestine, and the reference would seem to be to a bush or twelve feet on the branches of which birds would alight to eat the seeds. The detail is not important; what is important is the fact of the immense growth from the small beginning. And surely there is no better illustration of this than in the growth of Christianity itself.

The parables of the treasure hidden in the field and of the merchant seeking the pearl of great price illustrate the supremacy of the kingdom of God and the way in which it must be the first, and commanding quest of the true disciple.

And the final parable of the net cast into the sea tells of the kingdom of God in relation to the world, with the profound opportunity of man caught into the great net of God's divine grace, but with the inevitable separation of the good from the bad, as man accepts or spurns that grace.

What a full-orbed picture all five parables give of the kingdom of God and of man's relation to it!

AN ATLAS OF WAR

It is no ordinary map that interests 60,000,000 readers in the United States every week, as well as millions more in Canada. Such popularity is commanded only by the Background Maps of Wide World Features, the great affiliate of The Associated Press. They are the most complete, up-to-date graphic strategy maps of the world's war fronts issued anywhere in America today.

So popular have they become that readers have asked for them in a special book.

That book is now available—16 full pages, some in color, mapping every arena of war. But it is no mere reprint of the weekly maps you see in this paper.

Every map has been especially designed for this book by the same expert map staffs that produce the weekly background maps. Every page has been prepared for every eventuality.

Wide World War Book is your permanent guide to the course of the war.

And it is an authoritative guide, including background in picture and story, in addition to the maps, supplied by leading experts of The Associated Press at home and abroad.

Only The Associated Press and Wide World Features with unparalleled facilities all over the world could produce anything like the Wide World War Book.

There is drama behind its production—behind the production of the weekly Background Maps.

Two staffs are primarily responsible for the weekly maps—experts in Washington and in New York.

In Washington map researchers, close to the source of strategic information, supply the background for these maps. In New York another staff of experts—the artists—draw the maps. Sometimes a finished map is discarded at the last minute to meet some sensational new news development. When that happens Washington swings into action, New York swings into action, and a brand new background map is ready on deadline. Just as often these maps are ahead of the news, anticipate big events. Detailed maps of the Russian front showing where Hitler would strike were in editors' hands the morning Hitler struck!

The experience of all this has gone into your Wide World War Book which this paper will print on February 14. The book covers every area of the globe, shows the broad general strategy of these zones.

There are detailed maps on Hawaii, the Panama Canal, and Alaska, three keys to the Pacific; a full page of the Pacific as the admirals see it, a full page of the treasure islands—Dutch East Indies; a full page on the Asiatic frontier, showing just how an allied offensive would likely be sprung; maps of Singapore, Australia, the Atlantic battle zone, Europe, the Mediterranean and its three iron doors—Gibraltar, Suez and the Dardanelles; the Russian front, the Middle East (Arabian nightmare), a view of the world from the poles and finally, a full two-page spread of the entire world showing how Uncle Sam delivers the goods over seven seas in the struggle to crush the Axis.

No other map book is available like this.

Abbott, Costello Win Haywire Sweepstakes in 'Ride 'Em Cowboy'

Gala Comedy Heralded as Funniest Yet

Super Comedy Team Featured in Saenger Picture Here Sunday

Hailed as the most elaborate as well as the funniest of the Abbott and Costello starring comedies, Universal's "Ride 'Em Cowboy" takes over Sunday at the Saenger theater. Headliners in the large supporting cast are Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, The Merry Macs and Ella Fitzgerald. Featured musical and dancing aggregations include The Hi-Hatters, The Buckaroo Band and the Ranger Chorus of 40.

Backgrounded against an Arizona dude ranch, "Ride 'Em Cowboy" is said to contain everything necessary in the way of parade grounds for the antics of the two stellar zanies, including Indians, rodeo acts, bucking broncos, wild steers and feminine pulchritude. Among the players are a bevy of bathing beauties and the world.

Backgrounds Are Unique
Two of the most picturesque dude ranches in Southern California—the B-Bar A near Newhall and Rancho Chihuahuas in Solomint Canyon—were among the four location sites used by Director Arthur Lubin in the production of the offering. A third spot was Ravenna, a whistle stop 60 miles from Hollywood, where Universal built a tepee village.

Romantic interest in "Ride 'Em Cowboy" is carried by beautiful Miss Gwynne, Foran and Brown. Miss Gwynne portrays a rodeo star and daughter of the dude ranch owner. Foran is the author of best-seller Western novels who has never been west of Broadway, while Brown is the ranch foreman.

Queen of Swing
Ella Fitzgerald, America's queen of swing vocalizing, makes her screen debut as the ranch cook. She sings her own one-time hit tune, "A Tisket, A Tasket."

True Boardman and John Grant wrote the screen play from the adaptation by Harold Shumate. Edmund L. Hartmann authored the original story and the picture was filmed under the associated producer of Alex Gottlieb.

town buying up stocks and hoarding to one and all of your foresight. By hoarding you bring on rationing and possible hardship that might be avoided.

Hoarding is unpatriotic. But conserving what you now have is just as patriotic as buying defense bonds or working harder longer or volunteering for civilian defense. Don't waste. Take care of what you have. Buy only what you really need—now.

When the final history of this war is written, will it be recorded that America lost? That America lost because most of her people remained apathetic toward the war effort and the only ones to arouse from complacency were those who lathered themselves into the hysteria of hoarding?

Church Drive Starts Easter

Alliance Sponsors 'Go to Church' Movement

The Hope Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring a "Go to Church" movement to begin on Easter Sunday and to end on Mother's Day, the Rev. Harry Wentmeyer announced Friday.

A man can worship God alone, in nature, away from crowds or from Church buildings. To say otherwise would be to limit the communion between man and his Creator. But since man is a social animal and therefore is happier with the group, and since he is able to absorb atmosphere from the group, when he worships with a group he tends to get more out of it because he puts more into his worship, than he would if he worshipped alone.

Some people labor under the mistaken idea that Churches are for those who are already perfect—angels as it were, in this life; and that because the performances of these mis-named angels in this life belie their professions, these critics refuse to hold any membership in any Communion. Such reasoning simply stamps the reasoner as having a false idea of the purpose of the Church, or of taking refuge behind a rather thin excuse for his non-participation.

Even those who most seriously and honestly criticize the Church, and who refuse most pointedly to help her in any way, still insist that it is a good thing for the community to have church buildings in it, and for other people to use those buildings often for worship. Such people either knowingly or unknowingly are parasites on society, for they profit by the labors and sacrifices of others.

Library Enters Victory Drive

Campaign to Start to Collect 1,000 Books

Mrs. Carrol Bishop of the Arkansas State Library Commission, Little Rock, and director for Arkansas Victory Book campaign has appointed Senator James H. Pihlinton as chairman and Miss Elsie Weisenberger, county librarian, as assistant chairman to lead Hempstead county in the drive of gift books for the boys in the armed forces. The drive in Hempstead county begins March 2, 1942.

Camp librarians report that the following are the types of books in greatest demand, arranged by the Dewey classification: Applied psychology, current affairs, military publication, crime and the FBI, police systems and fingerprinting, English grammar, arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry, calculus, and tables of logarithms, up-to-date technical books, accounting, shorthand, business and salesmanship, lettering and mechanical drawing, photography, cartoons, well-illustrated books of all types, books about music, sports, novel and playwriting, poetry and individual plays, geography, travel (of the last ten years), biography (especially the shorter, more popular types).

The following fiction books are desirable: Adventure, aviation stories, historical novels, humor, mystery, sports, and western.

If you do not have a book suitable for gift you are urged to donate money. Miss Weisenberger, will be glad to order the book for you.

Just for fun, we put our name and address in each volume, maybe the service men will wonder, as much about the folks who gave these books as we do about those who will soon be reading them! So we add a few more to the pile and take them to the public library where they will help the Victory Book campaign, which is sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross, and the United Service Organizations, to reach its goal of ten million books for our men in service. The goal of Hempstead county is one thousand books.

Take your book or books to one of the following places, Monday, March 2, or the first day you are down town:

Hope, Headquarters Library, city hall, Washington, Blevins, Columbus, Fulton, branch libraries, Saenger or Rialto theaters; Girls' NYA shop; court house; churches of Hope; schools of Hope and Hempstead county.

Low, watery land in North Carolina is of various types: bays, swamps, peatlands, swamps, and savannas. The human body reaches its physical peak at about 25 years, according to scientists.

ers, without contributing their own share of support, moral or financial. It is becoming almost trite to say that the hope of the world for a better future lies in the wider and deeper application of Christian teachings in our every day life. Yet in what seems at this writing to be a rather apathetic or bewildered world, possibly such statements have their value. But in the minds of many acute observers as well as in the hearts of many devout believers in Christianity, unless the life of the future is more closely in the footsteps of the Galleen Carpenter, the future of the world, including that of this country, no longer isolated from world events, if it ever were so isolated, is dark and desolate indeed.

Thus any call to worship, such as is extended in the "Go to Church" movement, to both members and non-members of various communions, is a call to co-operate in laying the spiritual foundations for a better life for all; a life which can be enjoyed only if it is built on the rocky foundations of the life of Christ, and which will most miserably collapse if founded only on the shifting sands of human efforts assisted by materialistic devices.

How to Beat Tire Rationing

You Can Chew Your Own From Rabbit Bushes

Wide World Features
SALT LAKE CITY—Rubber that grows on bushes out west can be harvested by anyone with a strong set of teeth—and persistence unlimited.

John E. Hepler, an old timer who says he's been chewing the rubber from rabbit bush for 65 years, doesn't recommend that anyone try to gnaw out enough for a set of tires, however.

Hepler and his childhood playmates did it this way out in Sevier county, Utah, about 1877:

They stripped the bark from stalks of rabbit bush, then carefully scraped off a thin, sweet-swelling inner bark. This they chewed, until it became a pulpy mass.

Small bits of rubber about the size of a wheat kernel can be extracted from the pulp.

"After several hours of chewing a boy would have a small handful of pure rubber which, when heated, was used to toughen howstrings," says Hepler. "We also used the stuff as chewing gum."

Hepler said he couldn't estimate how long it might take a fellow to chew up enough rubber for a set of tires. Probably about a lifetime.

Tibbitt and other concert artists are making the grand circuit for Camp Shows as are the nation's most popular swing bands.

Denma Is Tops
Rosallind Russell, Linda Darnell, Joe E. Brown and other movie and stage stars are sellouts. The soldiers' biggest hand went to Denma Durbin, who all but broke up camp at Fort Devens, Mass.

Camp Shows are not open to civilians, officers' families or anyone who does not live and work on the post.

When the shows start playing outdoors this spring instead of in theaters and recreation centers, the admission charges will be dropped. The 11 big shows that tour the larger camps, now charge 20 cents while the 13 smaller units playing the less populous camps, charge 15 cents.
